Good Morning committee members and thank you for hearing my testimony on AB 467.

In 2009 the Legislature passed Act 100 with overwhelming bi-partisan support. One of the provisions of Act 100 was a requirement that first time OWI offenders with a Blood Alcohol Concentration (BAC) of 0.15 and above and all repeat OWI offenders install ignition interlock devices on their automobiles. The legislation mandated that the installation take place by the time the offender's drivers license was reinstated so that the clock on the court order requiring installation begin running and continue running while the offender was actually driving the automobile.

Clearly the intent of Act 100 was that those who are convicted of OWI not drive without an ignition interlock from the time of the conviction and for the entire time the court order was in effect. Those who violate the court order would then be subjected to a criminal misdemeanor.

Unfortunately, the intent of the law is being circumvented in some cases by what has become known as the "ignition interlock loophole." This occurs when a person convicted of OWI chooses to drive before his or her license is reinstated. If the person is stopped for a traffic violation, they will be cited for the traffic violation and for driving while revoked, but they will not be cited for the more serious criminal offense of circumventing the court order to install an ignition interlock. This is because the court order generally does not take effect until the license is actually reinstated, if the license was revoked by the court.

AB 467 as amended corrects the ignition interlock loophole by prohibiting persons subject to an ignition interlock order from operating any vehicle not equipped with an approved ignition interlock device from the time that the order restricting his or her operating privileges is entered until the time the ignition interlock order expires.

I would be glad to answer any questions.

State Patrol

Alcohol and chemical testing

Alcohol and chemical testing supports the prosecution of drunk drivers through the provision of a systematic and standardized method of measuring the breath alcohol content of impaired motorists.

The program maintains and certifies evidential breath alcohol testing instruments, trains and certifies instrument operators and provides expert testimony in court on breath alcohol and instrumentation issues. The program is also responsible for the approval of ignition interlock devices, approval of the preliminary breath testing devices (PBTs) as well as PBT operator certification and repair.

2013 Basic Breath Examiner Specialist Training

The Breath Examiner Specialist Training is a 3-day course for local law enforcement officers who do not hold a current evidential chemical test permit. This program is designed to certify applicants for permits to operate the evidential breath alcohol instrumentation in accordance with s. 343.305(10)(b) of the Statutes.

The class announcement provides all details of the course, including dates and locations. A completed application must be submitted for each officer you wish to enroll. Pre-registration is required.

Agency training officers will receive an email confirmation after applications have been processed. Confirmation letters will be sent to training officers 2-4 weeks before all scheduled training.

Contact Jan Grebel, Chemical Test Supervisor, for more information on training.

Installation of an ignition interlock device

Wisconsin courts are required to order an ignition interlock device (IID) to be installed on every vehicle owned by the offender for first offense OWI with an alcohol concentration of 0.15 or higher, for all second or subsequent OWI offense, and for chemical test refusal, unless doing so would cause an undue financial hardship.

IIDs are leased from a service provider for the duration of the vehicle sanction, a minimum of 12 months. The lease and service agreement includes fees for installation, monthly service, and removal at the conclusion of the sanction. Other fees may be assessed by the service provider for periodic calibration, violation resets, or permanent lockout conditions.

Please contact Diane Drinkman, Chemist, for more information on IIDs.

There are currently four IID models certified for use in Wisconsin:

- Intoxalock Model 1001A - Consumer Safety Technology, Inc.
- Interlock XT - Draeger Safety, Inc.
- LifeSafer FC100 - LifeSafer Interlock
- SSI 20/20 - Smart Start, Inc.

IID service centers

- IID Service Center Map(October 15, 2013)
- IID Service Center List(October 15, 2013)

After identifying nearby IID service centers, the offender should call the toll-free number listed for fee information and to schedule an appointment for installation.

The installation must be completed within 14 days of a court order or customer request, whichever is later.

OWI offenders who are serving a sentence in the county jail and qualify for daily work release privileges have two weeks in which to show proof of IID installation. Failure to show proof will result in revocation of work release privileges.
